Surface Mount, Direct Burial, Pad Mount RV Power Outlets & EV Charging Stations

Jamestown Advanced Products recommends that a licensed electrician perform all installation and routine maintenance to your electrical amenities. Your electrician will be well-versed in the environmental, material, and design variables of electrical products and the climate in which they are installed. Under no circumstances should an unlicensed or untrained person attempt to diagnose, maintain or repair an electrified site furnishing.

Jamestown Advanced Products is not liable for any installation or maintenance not performed by a licensed electrician and strongly advises against completing any inspection or maintenance on electrified amenities without proper certification or training.

Please refer to our “Powder Coat Care & Maintenance” resource for instructions on maintaining the powder-coat exterior of your power outlets or EV charging stations.
